LOG LINES

July 2010

Hot enough for you? We seem to have gone from lots of rain to lots of sun! But showing goes on...

Run to the Border

Congratulations to the all arounds—who showed for free for the weekend. Keri Collins was the in state all around amateur. Luann Meyer was the in state all around select amateur. Elizabeth Widmar was the out of state all around amateur. Chayna DeNicolo was the in state all around youth. Lauren Pruni was the out of state all around youth. Tami McElwee was the novice amateur all around. Mary Shown was the novice youth all around. They each got $50 off their bill for their award.

No, it's not a Quarter Horse! But you could find several people riding this pony after the show one afternoon. And not all the riders were kids!

And the weather was pretty warm for those shows also. Rain was all around us for some of the weekend but held off for us until the last few classes on Sunday. To the south and north it poured, but missed Ledges.

The special event on Wed. afternoon brought showmanship and trail exhibitors. The showmanship exhibitors had to dodge a loose horse for awhile. Trail was held outdoors in one of the large arenas—plenty of room to spread out. More fence horses came this year and were able to use the outdoor pen for all the fence classes. Some exhibitors from Florida said they would be back next year for sure. They loved the jumping arena.

Keri Collins got a note from AQHA saying her horse has accumulated enough trail points to not be a "green" trail horse anymore. Congratulations!

Joan Sellberg missed a few weeks of riding and showing with a painful kidney stone. After a load of antibiotics and some pain, she's back in the saddle. Prior to the kidney stone she did win one of the all around IPods at the ILQHYA show in May.

Good luck to our youth attending the Youth World Show. Check the AQHA website for results as they are posted.

July 2-4 at Gordyville

The show wasn't too big but there were points to be had and circuit awards for the novice classes. A pulled pork exhibitor party was served on Saturday. Yum! A couple of highlights... Kristine Stewart and SF Banker were novice youth western pleasure circuit champions. Morgan Marquis and Midnight Topcat were novice youth horsemanship circuit champions. Tami McElwee and Bettin Ona Promotion were novice amateur horsemanship circuit champs. Beth Manion, Joan Sellberg and Rich Smith picked up points in performance geldings. Terri Pankau and Shes a Choice Zippo picked up points in select western pleasure and senior western pleasure. Beth Manion picked up points in equitation. Kristine Stewart won a novice youth hunter under saddle and a novice youth equitation. I picked up points in novice amateur showmanship and select showmanship. Madison Maciejewski and her new horse, One Hot Lopin Asset, picked up points in novice youth western pleasure. David Street's stallion Stich N Style (shown by Jeff Alexander) was grand champion stallion. Diane Conover picked up points on 2 of her mares, Undeniably Dun and A Classical Creation. Jennifer Wagner picked up points on both of her horses, Cashette Twister and Ima Party Crasher. And the show was over early enough on the 4th for most people to get home to see fireworks in their area.

Gordyville July shows

Hot is probably the main word to say about the weekend! The humidity and heat were brutal! Chayna DeNicolo picked up points in performance geldings, youth performance geldings and green hunter under saddle. Denise McKay picked up some grands on her gelding, A Classical Sport. Jeff Greaves picked up some trail points on Joan Sellberg's horse Simply a Hustler. Joan won several Novice amateur trail classes on her horse also. Diane Conover's mares, A Classical Creation and Undeniably Dun, picked up some grands during the weekend also. I even saw Luann Meyer leading Ed's horse, Mr Te Invitation, in some halter classes. Jeff Alexander led David Street's stud, Stich N Style, to several grands also. Congratulations to Tanya Relander and One Lazy Investment for their reserve championship in the Western Pleasure Shootout! The pair picked up junior western pleasure and select amateur western pleasure points, winning several classes. Stephanie Clinton picked up trail and showmanship points on her mare, Magnetic Potential. Kristine Stewart and SF Banker won a Novice youth showmanship under one judge.

AQHA Showmanship DVD for sale

The DVD includes pattern demonstrations and shows you what the judges are looking for when judging a showmanship classes. You'll see good and bad examples of lines, trotting, and turns so you'll never mess up that all-important trot-back-to-line maneuver. Check the AQHA website to purchase.

World Equestrian Games in Kentucky this fall

Sept 25—Oct. 10

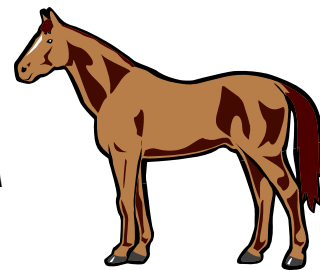

The World Equestrian Games are comprised of the world championships for eight equestrian sports. The Games are held every four years, two years prior to the Olympic Games, and are governed by the Fédération Equestre Internationale (FEI).

NEW RULES FOR NOVICE COMPETITORS

Beginning July 1, 2010 an exhibitor may show any mare or gelding in a novice youth or novice amateur class, with the owner and their immediate family still retaining the ability to show the horse in any class other than the same class as the novice exhibitor. Exhibitors will be required to have a novice amateur or novice youth membership to participate. Memberships can be purchased at the show or prior to the show through AQHA. All novice eligibility rules still apply. At the top ten show circuits, novice exhibitors must use novice permits to show a non-family owned horse.

Introductory shows

Kendall County Horse Assn. had an open show with AQHA classes on July 10th. A warm day, a nice turnout! Several people tried AQHA classes for the first time. The showmanship and hunter under saddle classes had more participants than the western pleasure classes. However, the next day, July 11th at Fox Valley Saddle Club, the opposite was the case at their Introductory Show. More western pleasure participants than the others. The AQHA classes that day didn't draw as many entries, but several reiners did show up to show. That show was run by the Wisconsin & Illinois Buckskin Assn. and had buckskin and open classes as well as the AQHA ones. Both Introductory Shows were approved by LLQHA and IQHA for points towards year end awards. This was the first year that Kendall County has tried the AQHA classes, but the second year for the Fox Valley show.

Hat Care

There aren't a lot of things men take too seriously about fashion, but their hats are definitely one of them. You can tell a lot about someone by his hat. No hat is shaped exactly the same, but there are a few basic starting points depending on what part of the show world you're in.

There are two basic principles to start with hat shapes. The event you compete in is first, and the shape of your face is second. There are certain basic standards judges look for in particular classes. For example in halter, western pleasure and showmanship classes, judges are looking for a crisper look. The front of the brim should be extremely straight and shouldn't have a dip in the front. The crown will be fairly narrow, and the vents on the sides are pulled out a little longer. The basic rule of thumb when it comes to the shape of a hat paired with the shape of your face is as follows:

- Narrow face – The hat should have a narrower crown and have the edges tipped up a little more than average.
- Round face – The front should sit a little lower and the sides not quite as high.

Storage and Care

The best thing you can do for your felt hat in the summertime is let it dry out. Never store it in a plastic bag, because it will hold moisture and lose shape.

Hat cans are great for keeping the dust off your hat in the stall, but after the show, take the hat back to the hotel and let it sit open and dry out. Keep your hat out of the sun, but leave it sitting in a place where it can dry out. Always make sure your felt is completely dry before brushing it, or the brushing will actually rub the dirt in instead of off the hat. You can use either a soft-bristle brush or a felt hat-cleaning sponge. Don't store your felt in the hot horse trailer. Remember to bring it into the house when you get home from the show. Figure on getting your hat professionally creased about twice a year to maintain its shape.
