LOG LINES

March, 2009

Have you renewed your membership yet for 2009? If you haven't, this is your last Log. If you know someone you think should or would like to join, pass along the membership form.

If you are a select rider who shows in amateur halter, you have a choice of designating your amateur halter points towards the regular amateur high point or the select amateur high point. Ashley Trousdale (who tabulates the points) needs to know your choice. Please send her your preference (if you are a select rider who shows in amateur halter). Her address is on the nomination form. Her email address is cp111@aol.com.

Did you attend the LLQHA banquet? A smaller group was in attendance this year but those who were there seemed to have a good time. The awards were great—as usual! Beth Manion did her usual exceptional job preparing the awards. Beth works with Kim Franklin's LK Tack Shop in Monee, IL for many of the award purchases. Thanks to Kim for her assistance. MaryKay Gustafson did her usual exceptional job planning the banquet. We do need to apologize to Ashley Trousdale for overlooking recognizing her for her work last year compiling points and organizing the open show. She did a fantastic job with both tasks. (An additional thanks to her mom Sandy for her help too.) Donna Schwald had fun trying to win items in the auction but got outbid several times. Pictures from the banquet are on the website. Check them out!

The Fitzpatricks have moved to Peotone— 29741 S. Harlem Ave, Peotone IL 60468 Kathy sold her interest in Fitzjoy to the Doyles and they moved 38 horses to the new barn on New Years eve. Travis, Kate and Kathy have been working so hard to get this remodeled that they did not even know it was Xmas! They are living there now as well after "camping" in the house for awhile with no appliances or Internet. All is finally coming together. Please note the new address as they are no longer affiliated with Fitzjoy farm. Good luck in the new location!

Get well wishes go out to Dr. Howard Koch who fell and broke his hip recently. While he was in the hospital he saw several friends & neighbors. "Old home week" at the hospital?? It might have been a rough winter in Oswego.

Chex Your Destiny was the 2009 Amateur Select All-Around High Point Champion at the Dixie Nationals in Jackson, MS held February 11th-15th. Chex also achieved his Superior in Trail at the Perry, GA AQHA Stock Show held February 27th thru March 2nd. Congratulations to Millie and Chex Your Destiny!

It doesn't look like there will be northern Illinois novice shows this year. Trouble coordinating dates and locations is causing too many problems.

AQHA INCENTIVE POINTS

The 2008 show season saw a record high in total points — 147,864 —earned by nominated horses, which is 10,066 more points than in 2007. The point value in 2008 was $22.35, which resulted in a 2008 payout of $3,304,760.40.

I heard from long time (but former) LLQHA member Gregg Eakle recently. He received a new kidney on Feb. 10th and seems to be doing well. We all wish him well!

Lynda Danielson is offering a Winter Board and Training special of $600 per month. She has a few openings for new horses and riders for the 2009 show season. Anyone interested can call her (815-228-7124) for more details.

BMQ Genuine Solution, formerly owned by the DeNicolò family is a star in the Rod's catalog!

Rod's Exclusive Turquoise Radiant Rhinestone Blouse.

Stop the show in this bright eye-catching blouse. Rich with rhinestones that splash along the generous fold-up French cuffs, along the collar and across the front and back.

AQHA EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE APPROVES THE LOWERING OF MOST 2009 WORLD SHOW QUALIFYING POINTS.

The American Quarter Horse Journal, March 6, 2009 – The American Quarter Horse Association has good news for members trying to qualify for the 2009 Bank of America Amateur or FedEx Open World Championship shows. By recommendation from the Show Council, the AQHA Executive Committee approved the lowering of most qualifying points for this premier event. Amateur and open performance halter and ranch sorting were not reduced. Further, classes that require only two points were not reduced.

Gordyville in February: Patty Novakowski and Big Dealin Dude won a Novice amateur horsemanship and a Select amateur horsemanship and Echo Fisher and Chips Lil Star won a Novice amateur showmanship. Lauren Stepaniak and Native Iron were 1st and 2nd in Novice amateur trail. Good start to the year for some members! Tanya Relander is starting the year well with One Lazy Investment and PS Signed in Silver with several 1st places. LeaAnn Koch-Bingham is picking up quite a few points and grands with her gelding Dr Cool Cash. Both Stephanie & Sarah Clinton seemed to be doing their usual good job at picking up points. Stephanie has moved into the 14-18 group this year, as has Caley Callahan. Kate Fitzpatrick has moved out of youth and joined the amateurs. She and Zippin in Harmony seemed to be starting the year well. Alyssa Lombardi's new horse RL a Sudden Attitude was grand youth gelding under one judge. Jennifer Wagner and Ima Party Crasher won all 3 Novice youth equitations at the second February set of shows. Ashley Fawns and MWS Private Zips placed 1st under 2 judges in Novice youth horsemanship. Carmen Wolff is showing a couple of tough youth mares, Shez Cool to a Te and Top Tina Two—going grand and reserve. As more people get out there showing, send me news of how you're doing!

Have an "I'm ALIVE" party for your old (over 25) AQHA horses.

You probably know that AQHA's computers automatically record a horse dead when it reaches it's 25 birthday (January 1 for all). The owner is responsible for notifying AQHA with a picture and statement that the horse is still alive...take a snapshot with your cell phone and e-mail it to AQHA.

The Yaklich family who own Panners Pride were contacted by AQHA about Panners' longevity. An article was being written on the "senior citizen." Check out the AQHA website under the "showing" tab for the article! What a great article on this gelding's career!

FOUR CLINICIANS IN ONE PLACE!

There aren't very many events that you can attend with your horse and take advantage of the advice of four AQHA Professional Horsemen and women. That's what you'll find at QuarterFest, AQHA's first-ever equine expo and celebration of the American Quarter Horse.

This one-of-a-kind event, May 1-3 in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, is going to be at the Tennessee Miller Equestrian Center at Middle Tennessee State University.

They'll have clinics all weekend long, with four of AQHA's Professional Horsemen and -women: Curt and Tammy Pate, a husband and wife from Newell, South Dakota; Jeff Griffith of Gallatin Gateway, Montana; and Julie Goodnight of Salida, Colorado. You can bring your horse and participate for $15 per clinic in addition to gate admission. They'll have an exciting performance each afternoon, and an all-star American Quarter Horse Extravaganza on Friday and Saturday nights. There will be seminars, demonstrations, contests and a dedicated youth area to make it fun for everyone. Some of the greatest American Quarter Horses and world champion horsemen and -women will be there to greet everyone. If you're an AQHA member, you'll be eligible for reduced admission at QuarterFest.

One of those letters that came to me via email:

Dear Horse

I love you very much and I truly cherish your presence in my life. I would never wish to criticize you in any way. However, there are a few trivial details regarding our relationship that I think might bear your consideration.

First of all, I am already aware that horses can run faster than I can. I do not need you to demonstrate that fact each time I come to get you in the pasture. Please remember that I work long and hard to earn the money to keep you in the style to which you have become accustomed. In return, I think you should at least pretend to be glad to see me, even when I'm carrying a bridle instead of a bucket of oats.

It should be fairly obvious to you that I am a human being who walks on only two legs. I do not resemble a scratching post. Do not think that when you rub your head against me with 1,000 pounds of force behind it, I believe that it wasn't your intention to send me flying. I am also aware that stomping on my toes while you are pushing me around is nothing but adding injury to insult.

I understand I cannot expect you to cover your nose when you sneeze, but it would be appreciated if you did not inhale large amounts of dirt and manure prior to aiming your sneezes at my face and shirt. Also if you have recently filled your mouth with water you do not intend to drink, please let it all dribble from your mouth BEFORE you put your head on my shoulder. In addition, while I know you despise your deworming medication, my intentions in giving it to you are good and I really do not think I should be rewarded by having you spit half of it back out onto my shirt.

Sometimes I get the feeling that you are confused about the appropriate roles you should play in various situations. One small bit of advice: Your stone-wall imitation should be used when I am mounting and your speed-walker imitation when I suggest that we proceed on our way, not vice versa. Please also understand that jumping is meant to be a mutual endeavor. By "mutual" I mean that we are supposed to go over the jump together. You were purchased to be a mount, not a catapult.

I know the world is a scary place when your eyes are on the sides of your head, but I did spend a significant amount of money to buy you and I have every intention of protecting that investment. Therefore, please consider the following when you are choosing the appropriate behavior for a particular situation:

When I put your halter on you, attach one end of a lead rope to the halter and tie the other end of the lead rope to a post or rail or whatever, I am indicating a desire for you to remain in that locale. I would also like the halter, lead rope, post, etc., to remain intact. While I admit that things like sudden loud noises can be startling, I do not consider them to be acceptable excuses for repeatedly snapping expensive new lead ropes (or halters or posts) so that you can run madly around the barn area creating havoc in your wake. Such behavior is not conducive to achieving that important goal that I know we both share - decreasing the number of times the veterinarian comes out to visit you.

By the same token, the barn aisle was not designed for the running of the Kentucky Derby and is not meant to serve as a racetrack. Dragging me down the aisle in leaps and bounds is not how "leading" is supposed to work, even if someone happens to drop a saddle on the floor as we're passing. Pulling loose and running off is also discouraged (although I admit it does allow you to run faster).

I assure you that blowing pieces of paper do not eat horses. While I realize you are very athletic, I do not need a demonstration of your ability to jump 25 feet sideways from a standing start while swapping ends in midair, nor am I interested in your ability to emulate both a racehorse and a bucking bronco while escaping said piece of paper. Also, if the paper were truly a danger, it would be the height of unkindness to dump me on the ground in front of it as a sacrificial offering to expedite your escape.

When I ask you to cross a small stream, you may safely assume that said stream does not contain crocodiles, sharks or piranhas, nor will it be likely to drown you. (I have actually seen horses swimming, so I know it can be done.) I expect you to be prepared to comply with the occasional request to wade across some small body of water. Since I would like to be dry when we reach the other side of the stream, deciding to roll when we're halfway across is not encouraged behavior.

I give you my solemn oath that the trailer is nothing but an alternate means of transportation for distances too long for walking. It is not a lion's den or a dragon's maw, nor will it magically transform into such. It is made for horses and I promise you that you will indeed fit into your assigned space. Please also bear in mind that I generally operate on a schedule and wherever we're going, I would really like to get there today.

For the last time, I do not intend to abandon you to a barren, friendless existence. If I put you in a turn-out pen, I promise that no predators will eat you and I will come back in due time to return you to your stall. It is not necessary to run in circles, whinny pathetically, threaten to jump the fence or paw at the gate. Neither your stall mates nor I will have left the premises. The other horses standing peacefully in adjacent pens amply demonstrate that it is possible to enjoy being turned out for exercise.

Finally, in closing, my strong and gentle companion, I would like to point out that, whatever might happen between horses and their people, we humans will always love you. In fact, our bonds with you help create new bonds among ourselves, even with total strangers. Wherever there are horses, there will be "horse people" and for the blessings you bestow upon us, we thank you.

Most sincerely yours,

Your Owner.. (or Caretaker)
