LOG LINES

November, 2008

Our fall shows are over. The Illinois futurity is over. Congress has come and gone. It must be fall! For me, it's an unusual fall because I retired in June. Students in the area headed back to school, but I didn't. All those people who said I would be very busy even though I retired were correct. I'm having no trouble filling my days. I've even had a chance to do some traveling when it wasn't a "school holiday" time.

MEMBER NEWS:

Congratulations to some of our members on their placements at the Select World. Denise McKay & A Classical Sport were reserve world champions in 3 year old geldings. Diane Conover and A Spark of Class placed 5th in yearling geldings. Sharon Gallup & Call Me Top Gun placed 11th in aged stallions. Illinois was well represented.

I see Denise and her gelding in the national standings for amateur and open geldings. Also in those standings I saw LeaAnn Koch-Bingham's show gelding from last year, Wishingshewouldcall. They are both in the race for national high point. LeaAnn's show gelding for this year, Dr. Cool Cash, is also in those open national standings.

And speaking of national standings, I also saw Alexandria Albright's name in the lead for Illinois Justin rookie. Way to go! At the LLQHA fall shows she picked up a youth grand on her gelding and was so excited!

Chayna DeNicolo and her gelding Circuit Award picked up their youth championship this past summer. They have been doing well in those youth classes!

Congratulations to Lynn Fierro on being the Novice amateur all around at the LLQHA fall shows. Victoria Wiggins was the all around Novice youth. Kelly Callahan was the all around 13 & under youth.

Congress news:

I hope everyone who went to Congress—either to show or just watch their favorite classes—had a great time. Some LLQHA members did well: Caroline Cavallo and Are You Captivated were 8th in Novice youth equitation over fences, 10th in Novice youth working hunter and 4th in Novice youth hunter hack. Sarah Clinton and Naturally Its George were 5th in Youth hunter under saddle 12-14 and 4th in Novice youth trail 14-18. Denise McKay and her gelding A Classical Sport were 7th in Amateur 2005 geldings, 6th in the 2005 geldings limited division, and 7th in 2005 amateur geldings limited division. Sarah Cerda and her horse Sorted Details were 6th in Novice youth hunter under saddle 14-18. Anna Ricobene and Sheza Top Contender were 9th in Youth equitation 15-18. Ann Webb and Steel City Selection were 6th in Amateur trail. Joe Spak and Rebels Hot Jazz were 4th in Novice amateur showmanship. Carmen Wolff and Shez Cool to a Te were 1st in 2006 youth mares. Tanya and Steve Relander's horse One Lazy Investment was 1st in the Congress 2 year old Masters snaffle bit western pleasure and took home a BIG check. Way to go!! Chayna DeNicolo and Circuit Award made the finals in both her youth showmanship and her youth performance geldings. Former members Jerry & Bev Krich and Tru Skips Shooter were 5th in the 2006 geldings. I even saw Alyssa Freeman's former gelding FF Zip to the Stars in the Congress results—3rd in Novice amateur western riding and 7th in Amateur western riding. If I missed someone, I apologize.

Did you know a normal horse's heartbeat is between 32 and 36 beats per minute?

A horse's daily water requirement varies from 5 to 20 gallons, depending on environmental temperature, workload, production state and feed intake.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS'

MEETING

August 21, 2008

The meeting was called to order at 7:18 p.m.

Present were: Sandy Trousdale, Ashley Trousdale, Jannee Waterman, Sally King, Ed Lawrence, Carrie DeNicolo, Gail Schroeder and Cheryl LaMaster. A treasurer's report was presented that covered the last 7 months. The youth raffle at the banquet did very well, but Carrie ended up saving some items until the next banquet. Towards the end items weren't selling well. The auction seemed to go on too long.

SHOWS: Cheryl presented a financial statement from the June shows. We had a donation from Jim McKillips and Rita Crundwell at the show, but we still lost money on the shows. LeaAnn sent a thank you for the donation. Cheryl suggested we give a complimentary membership to Rita Crundwell for 2009 to further recognize her donation. Cheryl and LeaAnn had talked to Jim McKillips again about looking at Ledges for a possible location for shows next year. They have several large arenas to work with. All the stalls and the indoor are under one roof, which would eliminate some of the concerns with stall location at Sterling. Cheryl and LeaAnn will schedule a meeting with the management of Ledges. Suggestions were made for showbill changes for next year. Green classes should be added. The stall price should be on the showbill.

NOVICE SHOWS: The novice shows were very small. The date didn't turn out to be as good as we had thought it might be. Those attending, several of them people new to AQHA, seemed to enjoy the shows, but there just weren't enough people there. The shows lost $1700, which will be split with IQHA. Ed Lawrence commented that there is value in the shows if you met your objective of bringing in people new to AQHA. We need to look at different dates for next year.

OPEN SHOW: This was the first year in awhile that we had tried an open show. The weather didn't cooperate very much—there had been a tornado in the area the night before and a storm blew through in the afternoon of the show. Ashley Trousdale had some prizes left over which will be used for other shows. The show made only a small profit. Ashley and Sandy had a team of people helping them and would like to try running a show again next year, possibly at Fox Valley. They also mentioned combining the show with a novice show and/or having some AQHA classes at the open show.

POINTS: We have several more small fry classes at shows this year, so we are keeping track of them for awards. For 2009 it was decided that select riders should declare at the beginning of the year if they want their halter points to count towards year end select or regular amateur all arounds. (In 2008 we are not counting their halter points towards the year end select all around.)

FALL SHOWS: We are sharing the facility with the palominos this year. We will again offer some price cuts on the classes for palomino exhibitor to try to entice them to try some of our classes. We will also offer a "supersize deal" where a novice rider can show in the corresponding amateur or youth class for $1.

YOUTH TEAM: We have several letters of intent but only 2 youth turned in sponsorship money. Each team must consist of at least 4 members so we don't have enough people to send a team. We will return the 2 sponsorship checks to the youth who sent them in. Carrie felt we were affected by several youth deciding to go with the Illinois team while some others have injured horses.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

*Cheryl LaMaster,
Sec/Treas.*

America's Horse Daily

Each day, this new website from AQHA will feature a new set of tips that will help you work with and improve your relationship with your horse. You can also sign up to receive information specifically related to seven areas: tack, showing, racing, health, breeding, training and recreational riding.

America's Horse Daily will be updated each business day and will continue to grow with valuable horse information. Here's an example of what can be found on the website:

Become a Horse Coat-Color Expert!

Learn the difference between a buckskin and a dun, a red roan and a blue roan, a cremello and a perlino and many more. Download your free report: American Quarter Horse Coat-Color Genetics. This stylish, full-color report is loaded with easy-to-understand coat-color genetics information, with explanations of each of the 17 AQHA recognized colors. This booklet is helpful when determining a new foal's color, and it's great for science projects and school reports. Full-color photos of horses with all 17 colors will help you train your eye and become a coat-color expert.

Download it for free from the website. (Information provided by AQHA)

Check out the Halloween Pony!! Here's a real "live" costume.

Equestrian Lifestyle Expo

In addition to giving attendees the opportunity to meet with experts, the expo will present "everything equestrian," for current horse owners. Program details – topics, presenters, times – will be available at the Expo website www.HorsemensCouncil.org. Purina is a sponsor of the Expo. "Whether you're looking for feed, tack, togs, a barn to house them – or just a good time learning more about horses and every aspect of the equestrian lifestyle – you'll find it at Equestrian Lifestyle Expo," said Joy Meierhans, manager.

There will be great shopping on the main level of the grandstand with learning opportunities and lots of fun activities in four seminar and game areas on the upper level. "This is 'not your father's' horse fair; we're including programming you just won't find elsewhere," she said. Vendors will offer English and Western tack, clothing for all breeds and disciplines; feed, supplements, health care products; facilities, equipment and stable supplies. Holiday gift items will include jewelry, art, books, stationery, home/barn/lounge accessories – even chocolates in the shape of horse heads. Just for the fun of it, Expo will offer equestrian collectibles appraisals – paintings, prints, sculpture, figurines, etc. Presentations will be given on incorporating your passion for horses into home décor, the horse in art, animal communication and more.

Speakers will include animal communication practitioner Asia Voight, whose uncanny insight into what a horse is thinking amazes owners; sports psychologist Dr. Morgan Wolin, who has helped prominent teams and players develop a winning attitude, as well as helping equestrians deal with mental blocks; ASID designer Susan B. Behringer, who will inspire listeners with her "how to" presentation on incorporating your passion for horses into your home.

Part of Expo's programming format will be seminars and roundtables – literally – where attendees can spend 20 minutes at a table with an expert before moving on to the next table, topic and expert. Think of it as speed dating with the pros. Subjects will include how to buy your first horse, drafting your own liability release to reduce legal risk in equine activities, equine mortality and medical insurance, current health issues, how to manage small acreage horse pastures and paddocks, what to do until the vet arrives, leg wrapping, how to recognize quality in selecting young performance horses, and many more.

Arlington Park is 20 minutes northwest of Chicago's O'Hare Airport and is accessible from all major expressways, interstate routes and commuter trains. It has 7,814 parking spaces. All tickets are $6 per day, available on the web site or at the door.

Horsemen's Council of Illinois, voice of the horse industry in Illinois, is affiliated with the American Horse Council and is the statewide association of equine organizations and individuals working to provide centralized leadership for Illinois' 77,000 horse owners, 213,000 horses and its $3.8 billion industry, which provides full-time employment for more than 15,000 people.
